[How to compare with the minimum wage]

1 If paid hourly ▶ Hourly wage \geq Minimum wage (hourly amount)

2 If paid daily ▶ Daily wage \div Contractual working hours per day \geq Minimum wage (hourly amount)
However, if a specific minimum wage for which a daily amount is specified is applied,
Daily wage \geq Minimum wage (daily amount)

Note) If, when the daily wage is divided by the contractual working hours, the amount is lower than the minimum wage by district, then the relevant minimum wage by district is applied.

3 If paid monthly ▶ Monthly wage \div Contractual working hours per month \geq Minimum wage (hourly amount)

4 A combination of 1 to 3 above ▶ For example, if the basic wage is hourly but various allowances (e.g. duty allowance) are paid monthly, convert the allowances to hourly amounts using the formulas in 1 and 3 above, and compare their total with the minimum wage (hourly amount).

※In comparing with the minimum wage, the following types of wages are not included.

① Wages paid on a temporary basis (marriage allowance, etc.)

② Wages paid for every period that exceeds one month (bonuses, etc.)

③ Wages paid for every hour that exceeds the contractual working hours (overtime premium, etc.)

④ Wages paid for work excluding the contractual working days (increased wages for working on holidays, etc.)

⑤ The part of wages paid for work which exceeds normal working time during 10 p.m. and 5 a.m. (increased wages for working after midnight, etc.)

⑥ Full attendance allowance, commutation allowance and family allowance.
